Create a CIToken-type authentication token. Click New to create a CIToken-type authentication token, then click Save. The plugin adds the ability to perform the security analysis with Micro Focus Fortify Static Code Analyzer, upload the results to Micro Focus Fortify Software Security Center, display the summary of the analysis results and set the criteria for construction failure based on the analysis results. See the full documentation for instructions. In the authentication token box, type the authentication token generated for the Fortify Software Security Center server in step 1. Typically you use SCA to scan the code (via sourceanalyzer or sourceanalyzer.jar) from a static code analysis perspective, generate an FPR file, then open it with Audit Workbench or upload it to SSC, where you can monitor trends, etc. SCA was known as the source code analyzer (in fortify 360), but is now a static code analyzer. You're reading a free preview Pages 39 to 40 are not shown in this preview. You're reading a free preview Pages 95 to 99 are not shown in this preview. SSC reports use a different technology and are better suited for executing centralized metrics. In the Filter box, type Fortify. Select the checkbox for Fortify plugin, and then click or Install without restarting now Download and install after rebooting. To use a failure condition and view the analysis results in Jenkins, you need to upload the results of the analysis performed locally to Fortify Software Security Center, then scroll to the Fortify Assessment section and do the following: In the SSC URL box, type the URL of the Fortify Software Security Center server. The correct format for the URL of Software Security Center is: http://:ssc. You can also perform the analysis with ScanCentral SAST. SSC ("Software Security Center") was known as Fortify 360 Server. After the Fortify Static Code Analyzer scan is complete, you can upload the results to a Fortify Software Security Center server. The Fortify Jenkins plugin also allows you to view details of the analysis results within Jenkins. The following command is an example of how to do it: docker container run \-p 8080:8080 \-v /home/admin/Fortify/Fortify_SCA_and_Apps_21.2.0:/var/jenkins/home/Fortify/Fortify_SCA_and_Apps_21.2.0 \-name=jenkins |jenkins/jenkins-d example, the value of FORTIFY_HOME is /var/jenkins/home/Fortify/Fortify_SCA_and_Apps_21.2.0. Preview Advisory Older versions of this plugin may not be safe to use. In the global properties, create the following environment variable: Name: A FORTIFY_HOME Value: A where A is the path where Fortify Static Code Analyzer is installed. A For example, on Windows the default installation path is C:\Program Files\Fortify_SCA_and_Apps_21.2.0.
